Believes Treaty Will Be Ratified

Action of Nations on Kellogg Most Important Step Ever Taken in History of Peace, Says Senator Borah, Anticipating Senate Ratification.

Washington, Sept. 3 (AP).—Senator Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee, who has long worked for world peace, said today that he believed the Kellogg-Briand peace treaty recently signed at Paris was the hope and expectation of the nations and that it was the most important step in the cause of peace that ever has been taken.

"I am of the opinion that the treaty will be ratified by the Senate at the next session of Congress," Senator Borah said. "I regard the signing of the multilateral treaty as the treaty to outlaw war, as I prefer to call it, by the fifteen nations and the action of the other nations since as the most important step in the cause of peace that ever has been taken."

"It is in a sense an embodiment of a crystallization of a profound conviction of the people everywhere and in all countries that war should no longer be accepted as an instrument for the settlement of international disputes."

"I have seen it stated that the treaty does not amount to much because there is no force behind it. I regard this treaty as just as binding as any other treaty. There is nothing behind any treaty except the private word of the nations signing it. If a government makes a treaty to furnish an army and does not see it to do so, there is no way to enforce that treaty."

Obligation Works Both Ways.

"There is just the same obligation, the same national honor, in a treaty not to go to war as there is in a treaty to go to war. I think the signing of this treaty is a great triumph in the cause of peace."

"Some other senators now in Washington are at a loss to understand how letters of interpretation of the pact such as those that have been written to the American secretary of state can be regarded as reservations to the treaty itself. These interpretations were not embodied in the instrument before it was signed by the nations and these governments are bound by what they signed, since in their judgment the language of the treaty is specific and plain."

"Unless some statement on this case of the subject has been made before the next session of Congress, it is likely that the foreign relations committee will make a formal inquiry of the state department before recommending favorable action by the Senate."

City and Trolley Road Can't Agree

Action on Application to Substitute Buses for Trolley Cars in Kingston Held in Abeyance—Brief Session of Common Council.

No action was taken Tuesday evening by the common council on the application of the Kingston Transportation Company to substitute buses for trolley cars in the city as the railroad committee, which has the matter in charge, reported that it had been unable to reach an agreement with the trolley road and asked that the matter be held in abeyance. The report was adopted. Mayor E. J. Dempsey informed the council that after the railroad committee had met with the trolley road officials and attorney, he had met with Mr. TeBow, general manager of the trolley road, who had informed him he could not get his principals to come to an agreement with the city.

Although the railroad committee did not state what held up the application it is understood that one of the questions involved is the length of time for which a franchise to operate the proposed bus line shall be granted, and also over the proposed routes.

No Funds for Drum Corps.

The finance, ways and means committee of the council submitted a report on the resolution recently offered by Alderman Mann relative to the city donating $500 toward defraying the expenses of the American Legion Drum Corps to the Legion convention to be held in October at San Antonio, Texas. The report stated: "While the committee feels that the city should stand back of the projected trip to the fullest extent it finds that no fund is available in the present budget from which to take this amount and reports accordingly."

On Motion of Alderman Mann, the report was adopted.

Wants B. P. W. to Walk.

Alderman Burger offered a resolution "That the board of public works walk on Greenkill avenue some night without an officer and see for themselves if this street is properly lighted. Fifth request." The resolution was referred to the public works board. In speaking on the resolution Alderman Burger said that this was a bad, dangerous street at night for women and children as it was not properly lighted.

Bills and claims were read and audited and the council then adjourned for two weeks.

STEFANSSON POINTS TO SAFETY OF NORTHERN ROUTES

New York, Sept. 3 (AP).—The safe landing in Greenland of the airplane Greater Rockford and the successful trek by its pilots, Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, to Mt. Evans are regarded by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, noted Arctic explorer, as proof of the desirability of northern routes in transoceanic aviation.

Contrasting the fates of the many fliers who followed the steamship routes over the open water, and the survival of Hassell and Cramer after landing on ice 100 miles from Mt. Evans, Stefansson described features of icy wilderness which he indicated provided a greater margin of safety than the open sea.

In the interior of Greenland, he said, there are tens of thousands of miles of ice so level that one could not stub one's toe. Nearer the sea, he said, the ice is broken into crevasses into which inexperienced men might fall, although the successful trek made by the Greater Rockford fliers was made that even inexperienced men are safe from any unusual accidents and hazards in the region. Hassell and Cramer came through a fortnight of walking without serious hardship.

FINISHES SPEECH AMID BOMBARDMENT OF EGGS.

Florence, Ala., Sept. 3 (AP).—Rev. George W. Wilbourne of Little Rock, Ark., finished anti-Smith speech at the county court house here last night amid a bombardment of eggs thrown in through open windows and doors.

The interruption, the speaker said today, came at the middle of his speech, but no direct hits were made, and he was able to finish his address.

"I could see the eggs coming," said Mr. Wilbourne, "and saw that they were going to miss me, so I didn't move. The party throwing them must have been a ball player, though, for he was shooting curves at me and one of them came in pretty close."

TWO INJURED WHEN AUTO HIT STRAW RIMING PARTY

Miss Elizabeth Decker of Saxton and Owen O'Rourke of Quarryville, were injured Saturday night when a car being driven by James O'Rourke, Jr., of Quarryville, ran into a team and hay wagon on which Miss Decker and O'Rourke with several other couples were having a straw ride. Miss Decker was bruised about the body and O'Rourke sustained an injured back. The collision occurred at Saxton near the Knickerbocker House. There were nine couples in the hay wagon which had been out for an outing but fortunately eight of the couples had alighted from the wagon before it was struck by the auto.

Green Assured Of Renomination

National Issues Did Not Figure in Michigan Election Where Only Issues Were Road Construction and Increased Taxation.

Detroit, Sept. 3 (AP).—Piling up an impressive majority in the upcoming election, Governor Fred W. Green, Republican, seemingly was assured of renomination as additional returns from yesterday's statewide primary election were tabulated. With returns from 1,245 out of 3,184 precincts in the state, the governor had a lead of more than 95,000 over George W. Welsh, former lieutenant governor. The figures were: Green, 156,535; Welsh, 61,028.

Although the returns included but a few precincts in Wayne county (Detroit) the governor apparently had carried every out-state county reporting, including those in which Welsh had claimed particular strength. Only 40 Wayne county precincts had been counted, but these, too, gave Green a lead. William S. Comstock, Democrat, was opposed for the gubernatorial nomination.

While Welsh had stumped the state, assailing Green's administration as negligent in road construction, and responsible for increased taxation, the governor made what amounted to a "silent" campaign. National issues did not figure in the campaign.

United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican, was renominated without opposition, to fill a vacancy and also for the full term commencing next March. He will be opposed at the November election by Mayor John W. Bailey, Democrat, of Battle Creek, unopposed in the primary.

In the contest for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, Luren D. Dickinson, incumbent, was leading Fred J. Woodworth of Detroit, and G. Elmer McArthur of Eaton Rapids. Returns from 1,158 precincts gave: Dickinson, 83,932; Woodworth, 50,861; McArthur, 27,313.

In the congressional districts, the outstanding contest in the primary was in the Ninth District, but partial returns indicated the renomination of Representative J. O. McLaughlin over R. Glenn Dunn of Muskegon, and Claude M. Curtiss of Ludington. Without Democratic opposition, the nomination was equivalent to election. Representative John C. Ketchum seemingly was renominated in the Fourth District, and Representative Grant Hudson appeared safe in the Sixth. The three-cornered Democratic contest in the Sixth still was undecided.

Evangelist Paid $2,500 to Judge

Was a "Free Will Offering" for Legal Advice, Says Judge in Reference to Payment by Almoce Semple McPherson and Her Mother.

Los Angeles, Sept. 3 (AP).—The revelation that Judge Carlos A. Hardy of the Los Angeles superior court accepted $2,500 from Almoce Semple McPherson and her mother after the Angelus Temple pastor returned here with her story of having been kidnapped, caused a stir in official quarters today but whether it would result in an investigation remained in doubt.

The new angle of the evangelist's adventure, which occupied the attention of courts intermittently for two years, came to light yesterday when Judge Hardy confirmed a statement made in Seattle by Mrs. McPherson's mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy. Judge Hardy said he accepted the money as a "free will offering" which the Angelus Temple leaders insisted upon giving him for legal advice.

The question of a new investigation was laid aside by the county prosecutor's office after District Attorney Asa Keyes telegraphed his deputies to take no action in the case until he returns from his vacation. The check, according to both the temple pastor's mother and Judge Hardy, was presented to him soon after the return of Mrs. McPherson from the Mexican desert with her story of having been kidnapped. At that time reports had not yet been circulated that the evangelist had been staying in a Carmel, Cal., cottage accompanied by Kenneth G. Ormiston, temple radio operator, and no criminal charges had been made. Judge Hardy said.

Two suits filed recently by lot buyers in a Lake Tahoe, Cal., subdivision in which they accused the evangelist of misrepresentation, threatened today to be fought out in the courts.

Boy Drowned In Esopus Creek

Albert Carney, 15, son of Mrs. C. Carney of Clermont street, Saugerties, was drowned in the Esopus creek Monday evening. His body was later recovered. The boy with two companions, Chauncey Quick and Edward Soles, had been swimming off the slate rocks below the Esopus Club bathing house at Saugerties, and when he went down they attempted to rescue him but could not and narrowly escaped drowning themselves. Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his sister, Mrs. James Christiana, on Post street, Saugerties, interment in Mountain View cemetery, a year ago.

Hoover May March Upon Solid South

Where Friends Say There Is More Than A Possibility of His Campaigning for the First Time Since Reconstruction Days.

Washington, Sept. 3 (AP).—Now that Herbert Hoover has definitely decided to carry the political warfare to the home grounds of his opponent, Alfred E. Smith, he is seriously considering a march upon the very ramparts of Democracy, the solid south. The pressure for him to make a trip into that section is almost as great as was that for him to visit Newark and New York city, where he will speak on September 17 and October 17, respectively. He probably will yield to it by going either to North Carolina or Tennessee for one speech near the dividing line between the two states.

Some recent callers at the Hoover headquarters have told the Republican nominee that there is more than a possibility that he can break the solid south for the first time since reconstruction days and have urged that he make a special campaign tour in that territory.

Hoover has been inclined to discount some of the reports that have come to him regarding the situation in Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia and he probably will wait before he reaches his final decision. He has limited himself to a few speaking trips and naturally his desire is that these should take him where his personal appearance might be expected to do his cause the most good.

Having started the preparation of his Newark speech, the Republican candidate is expected to devote the major portion of the remainder of the week to its completion. Should he follow this course, his fishing trip to Chesapeake Bay necessarily would have to be put over until next week.

Will Discuss Labor.

Beyond a general statement that he will devote his Newark speech to a discussion of labor questions, Hoover declines to forecast what subjects he will discuss there or in New York city.

Hopes of party leaders in the cities and towns adjacent to those in which the nominee will speak that he would make automobile tours through them and perhaps say a few words have been blasted by Hoover himself. He has decided against such side excursions both in the east and in the other sections of the country where he will appear.

Before resuming work today at his personal headquarters here, the Republican standard-bearer sought the latest figures on the Wisconsin primaries in which there was a three-cornered race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination and in which Senator Robert M. La Follette, Jr., was a candidate for renomination.

The primaries were unusually bitter and Wisconsin leaders had information that until the result was known, it would be difficult to make an accurate forecast of the general election in November.

The Democrats are claiming the state and even the most optimistic of the Republican leaders concede that the contest there is likely to be very close.

Hoover had engagements today with Henry Breckenridge of New York, counsel for the Guggenheim foundation for the promotion of aviation, and with Secretary Davis of the War Department. Davis has just returned from a visit in Honolulu and the western United States.

MINNESOTA FARM BUREAU HEAD TO SUPPORT SMITH.

St. Paul, Sept. 3 (AP).—J. F. Reed, an ardent Republican for 40 years, resigned today as president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, to campaign actively for Governor Smith for president.

Reed said he quit as head of the non-political organization of 35,000 farmers to support the Democratic presidential candidate because he considered Smith's pronouncements and platform "embrace the principles held vital to any adequate farm relief plan."

Both the Republican platform and Hoover, he said, have confined their agricultural pledges "to vague generalities which in no way define, nor suggest, nor promise remedy long sought by American agriculture."

JOHN'S BODY TAKEN FROM LEGG'S MILLS.

The body of James B. Johns of 429 Hudson avenue, West New York, N. J., was recovered near the spot where he was drowned at Legg's Mills and taken in charge of Coroner W. N. Conner who after preparing the body for burial took it to the late home on Tuesday where funeral services will be held. The body was recovered by two local men who had been engaged in searching for it since the accident.

New Jersey Gasoline Tax Receipts.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 3 (AP).—William L. Dill, motor vehicle commissioner, today announced that he had given the state treasury a check for $359,406.04, representing gasoline tax receipts for July. It is the largest amount collected in any one month since the tax became effective a year ago.

Robinson Talks Of Religious Issue

Again Attacks Those Opposing Gov. Smith Because of His Membership in Catholic Church—Nation Is Based on Equality.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 3 (AP).—Completing his swing into Texas with another speech attacking those opposing Governor Smith because of his membership in the Catholic Church, Senator Joseph T. Robinson left here today en route for Nashville, Tenn., the next stop on his itinerary. Stamping his foot on the platform here last night the Democratic vice-presidential nominee declared that religion was an "issue which must be met in this campaign." "I am a Protestant," he almost shouted, "but I would deem myself unworthy if I repudiated the principle upon which Thomas Jefferson stood and asked you to vote against him (Governor Smith) because he is a Catholic."

"Times come and men pass but it is upon the principle of equality of the individual, the freedom of action, of the press and of religion that the nation is based."

Gesturing with his hand, Mr. Robinson said that there was a "lip to ear" campaign being carried on in whispers against the Democratic vice-presidential nominee and that "Republicans and Democrats alike resent the unfairness and injustice" of this.

No Greater Leader Since Jackson.

The senator, as at Dallas Monday, began by reading a prepared address. In this he compared the two candidates for the presidency, asserting that since the days of Andrew Jackson there had been no greater leader than Smith in the political arena. While, in his opinion, Mr. Hoover failed to show leadership as secretary of commerce in the Harding and Coolidge cabinets.

He contended that Governor Smith through four terms as chief executive of New York state was qualified in every respect for the presidency and that his work had equipped him far better for the position than "one could obtain as an engineer or in relief work."

"Prior to his speech accepting the nomination of the Republican party for president," the senator said, "few were acquainted with Mr. Hoover's views on any of the questions discussed in the Republican platform. The reason for this is that secretiveness of disposition which has been developed through a long private business career."

Coolidge Plans to Hunt Next Winter

Becomes Proficient at Trapshooting and Will Go Hunting in Kentucky with English Setter Which Has Been Presented to Him.

Superior, Wis., Sept. 3 (AP).—Elusive clay pigeons and a blooded English Setter puppy have put the fever of the hunt in the veins of President Coolidge. He is going down to old "Kaintuck" this winter to follow the dogs.

Breaking as many as 24 out of 25 of the whirling objects shot from the specially installed traps at Cedar Island Lodge has made Mr. Coolidge think he is better than an average shot and he wants to try his skill on live game.

When Palo Alto, five months old pup, was presented him yesterday, the chief executive turned to Colonel E. W. Starling of his staff and said: "Have this dog ready by winter for I am going down to Kentucky this winter for some hunting." The dog is to be trained by Colonel Starling's brother at Hopkinsville.

The President today arranged to show newspapermen and photographers that he has mastered the art of trapshooting. He invited them to the summer White House to witness an exhibition of skill.

Following the special show at the lodge, Mr. Coolidge planned to come to Superior to attend the Tri-State Fair. The trip, which will consume but a few hours, is the last on his schedule before his return to Washington the first of next week. Only a few days will be spent at the capital, and he will then proceed to Vermont for a short stay.

The President leaves the North Woods a changed man. He confided to friends on his arrival here last June that he had never been so tired in his life, and his lined face bore proof of his statement. Hours in the sly air of the pines, on the Bruce river fishing, trapshooting and tramping, have taken the fatigue from his countenance.

Winne Admitted Into Partnership

Charles D. Robbins & Company, a well known New York Stock Exchange firm with offices at 44 Wall street, New York city, announce in the New York Herald-Tribune today that J. Albert Winne has been admitted into full partnership in the firm.

J. Albert Winne is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Winne of 102 Main street, this city. For the past nine years he has been connected with Halsey, Stuart & Company of New York city, and recently has been manager of the Newark, N. J., office of that firm.

Smith Busy In Dual Capacity

As Chief Executive of State and Democratic Presidential Candidate—Continues To Devote Attention To Duties of State.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 3 (AP).—In his dual capacity as chief executive of the state of New York and Democratic presidential candidate Governor Smith is finding plenty work to keep him busy while waiting the national ring for the supreme test of his political career.

State tasks continue to occupy the governor both day and night and it now looks as if he will not temporarily divest himself of his gubernatorial regalia for the bigger job ahead until after the middle of September. The governor himself was responsible for this deduction when he said yesterday that "they," evidently meaning his political advisers, had mapped out no program for him for all of next week.

Today and for the remainder of the present week he will continue to devote his attention to duties at the state capital and at the executive mansion, working in a game of golf here and there as time permits. Mr. Smith is putting in most of his time at the residence on Eagle street getting his husband's "things ready" for the long and trying days of the campaign.

Plans Being Withheld.

The special train that will take the Democratic standard-bearer on his first extensive speaking tour is rapidly being made up, but details as to its composition are being withheld pending publication of its route and stopping points. Applications from Metropolitan newspapers for reservations on the Democratic special are being received in Albany daily and it appears that the high peak of sixteen correspondents who accompanied John W. Davis on his swing around the country in 1924 will be far exceeded when the Smith train pulls out.

Not the slightest rumble of what the issue or issues the governor plans to discuss in his first speech has come to the surface thus far from any official or semi-official source, although there has been considerable unofficial speculation, varying along with the sections that might be visited.

In his acceptance speech, the Democratic nominee said he undoubtedly would take up in more detail later in the campaign some of the subjects he touched upon in that address. On another occasion, he indicated he would debate his prohibition stand if he thought the need arose. But aside from this, nothing definite has come from him since his official notification regarding future debate topics.

SPLendor and Fervor AT EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS.

Sydney, New South Wales, Sept. 3 (AP).—Scenes of splendor and fervor unparalleled here marked the opening of the Eucharistic Congress today.

A dense crowd surged around the Cathedral all day. One hundred twenty archbishops, bishops and every grade of the Catholic priesthood with laymen holding Papal Knighthoods or decorations from the Pope, walked in a stately procession from St. Mary's grounds to the main entrance of the Cathedral.

An impressive wave of devotion swept the vast assemblage as the scarlet robed figure of Cardinal Bonaventura Cerretti, Papal delegate, passed. Thousands dropped to their knees or bowed their heads to receive his blessing.

After the formal opening meetings of various nationalities began, addresses were given in a variety of languages.

JOHN SHAFERMAN, COMPANION OF BUFFALO BILL, DIES.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 3 (AP).—John Silverman, 87, native of Alsace-Lorraine, who shipped to the United States in 1860, and became an adventurer in the west with Kit Carson and Buffalo Bill Cody, died here last night.

Known as "French John" he left the southwest for North Dakota, where he scouted in the Black Hills with Buffalo Bill. Later he scouted to keep the Overland trail clear with Kit Carson.

After years of this life he came to Nashville, married and settled down to live until 1923, when he had the chance for further adventure. He joined the Second Tennessee Regiment as cook and served in the Philippines.

As scout in the west, Silverman credited himself with having killed thirty Indians.

12 DEATHS FROM INFANTILE PARALYSIS IN WINNIPEG.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 3 (AP).—Infantile paralysis in Winnipeg since July has caused 12 deaths and has spread to the rural sections of the province, health authorities said today. There are thirty cases in the rural sections. In this city, with six additional victims reported yesterday, there have been 107 cases since the first was recorded.

Schools were opened in Portage La Prairie yesterday, but were immediately closed when two children were reported to have contracted the disease.

Mrs. Knapp Must Remain In Jail

Stay of Execution of Jail Sentence Can Be Granted Only at Special Term of Supreme Court, Earliest of Which Will Be Held Saturday.

Albany, Sept. 3 (AP).—Regardless of legal maneuvers by her attorneys, Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state for New York, must serve five days of her thirty day jail sentence imposed for grand larceny, first degree.

John J. Conway, of defense counsel, pointed out today that although every effort was being made to obtain a certificate of reasonable doubt, on which an appeal could be based, nothing could be accomplished before Saturday.

When the prisoner is confined in a county jail, a stay of execution cannot be granted and a certificate of reasonable doubt can be granted only at a special term of supreme court. There is no special term in Albany county until Saturday, when Justice Ellis J. Staley will preside. Meanwhile Mrs. Knapp must remain in jail, according to Mr. Conway, until the possibility of an appeal is decided.

Should Justice Staley reserve decision on the argument for a certificate of doubt, it is possible that Mrs. Knapp will serve more than a week of her sentence at least.

The sentence was imposed by Supreme Court Justice Stephen Callaghan, of New York city, yesterday, after the judge had overruled pleas for a suspended sentence by both defense counsel and Special Prosecutor George Z. Medalle. Strenuous efforts were made to obtain the certificate before Mr. Medalle returned to New York city yesterday afternoon, but Justice Staley was at his summer home in Elizabethtown and could not be reached in time.

Mr. Medalle is entitled to an opportunity to argue against the granting of a certificate of reasonable doubt, and it is expected he will return to Albany Saturday when the argument is made.

The former state official spent her first night after sentence in a room of the home of Sheriff Joseph H. Henchey, connected with the jail, pending outcome of the legal efforts of her counsel to obtain a certificate of reasonable doubt.

Legal obstacle is interposed through the action of Mrs. Knapp's counsel, said Rance Taylor, superintendent of the jail, who will be taken to a cell in the women's tier of the jail today and will be subject to the usual prison routine, including having her photograph taken and being fingerprinted.

This formality was postponed yesterday when she was received at the penitentiary because of the prisoner's nervous condition.

37 Planes Race To Los Angeles

Earl Rowland Is First to Reach Columbus—Flight Will Be Continued at Dawn Tomorrow.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Sept. 3 (AP).—Thirty-seven airplanes took off today in a 3,000-mile race to Los Angeles.

Thirty-seven minutes after the first craft left the ground the last plane took the air and followed the procession toward Harrisburg, Pa., the first of 16 stops on a five-day journey across the country. Another stop today was McKeesport, Pa., and an overnight halt will be made at Columbus, Ohio.

Albert R. Jacobs of Philadelphia, accompanied by Sam Lowden, also of Philadelphia, as a passenger, took off first at 5:42:43 a. m., eastern standard time. The remaining planes departed at one minute intervals.

The first plane was started by Miss Viola Gentry of New York, who waved a handkerchief from the window of a building near the field when a pistol fired by Mayor George E. Coyer at Los Angeles was heard through a transcontinental telephone connection.

The race is the first of four sponsored by the California Air Race Committee, and is staged in conjunction with the National air races at Los Angeles. The contest starting today was for planes with motor displacement of less than 510 cubic inches. Two other classes will start tomorrow and a non-stop flight contest will take place Wednesday, September 12. Cash prizes of $52,500 will be distributed among the four divisions.

Rowland Leads.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 3 (AP).—Earl Rowland, Wichita, Kan., piloting his Cessna A monoplane in the Class A cross continental air race, from New York, was the first to reach Columbus from McKeesport, Pa., where he led the entrants in landing from Roosevelt Field. Rowland landed here at 11:10 o'clock this morning. He left McKeesport at 9:55.

The planes and their pilots will remain here tonight, continuing their flight toward Los Angeles at dawn tomorrow.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the board of health: Mr. and Mrs. Francis Jablonski, 55 Hanratty street, a daughter, Louise. Mr. and Mrs. John Rudledge, 131 Abbel street, a daughter, Gertrude May. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sharkey, 42 Second avenue, a daughter, Marian Theresa.

Many Stars In Kiwanis Kapers

After seeing the remarkable performance of the Kiwanis Kapers last year, people of Kingston are looking forward with keen anticipation to this year's efforts of this popular service club. The second annual Kiwanis Kapers will be given at the Broadway Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and those who have been fortunate enough to witness a rehearsal for this big show declare that this year's production will far surpass the splendid one given last year.

Director Charles Adams has made an attempt to please everyone and has selected all types of acts to make up the big revue. One scene that is sure to please the theatre goers of twenty years ago is the act entitled "Old Names of Old Flammie," in which Dick Obenaus plays the part of an old stage doorknocker who tells about the musical comedy stars of his years.

These stars will be impersonated by such well known local stars as Jessie Cowley, Mildred Messinger, Carolyn S. Rich, Bill DeKoskie, Harry Barnhart, Fred Meeker, Marion Jones, A. B. Franz, Arthur Brue, Irene Gleason, Helena Snow, Lillian Werner, Roger Keough, Florence Rafalowsky and Billy Hawk. In this act will be sung the songs made famous by Fritz Scheff, Chauncey Olcott, George M. Cohan, Zama Trentini, Bert Williams and Pat Rooney.

The other acts in the Kapers are all made up of the new up-to-date song hits, dances, clever sketches and comedy acts.

Paul Zucca has another riot of an act this year entitled "Desperate Desmond" in which Paul does some mighty clever work.

Allice McLaughlin and Dr. Julius Clifford's comedy sketch, "Meet the Girl Friend" promises to be one of the highlights of the show.

The sale of reserved seats opened Tuesday at the Broadway Theatre box office and judging from the advance sale the Kiwanis Club will be greeted by three crowded houses.

SALE STORE OPENS AT 30 N. FRONT STREET

A branch of Saks of Poughkeepsie will be opened at 30 North Front street Thursday with a big sale of stockery. Mr. Saks has conducted several special sales in Kingston in temporary locations and has now secured a permanent store in this city, having taken a long term lease on the North Front street premises. On the opening day of the store there will be special offers, several being mentioned in an advertisement appearing in this issue.

MacMillan Returns From North After 14 Month's Exploration

New scientific facts that will be studied in school rooms a few years hence are being brought back by the Rawson-MacMillan-Field expedition after 14 months in Labrador and Baffin Land. Lieut. Comm. Donald B. MacMillan (right) is leader. The schooner Bowdoin (left) is one of the three vessels used. In the party were Dr. Duncan Strong (upper inset), anthropologist, and Kenneth Rawson (lower inset), son of the financial backer.

Wiscasset, Me., Sept. 5 (P).—The Rawson-MacMillan-Field expedition is sailing back to civilization with the results of 14 months of study and adventure in the fastnesses of northern Labrador.

Early September will bring the expedition's little flotilla back to the tranquil waters of the Sheepscot river and to Wiscasset, whence the explorers and scientists sailed in June, 1927. Nearly 30 men make up the personnel of the party. Its vessels consisted of the schooner Bowdoin, the fishing schooner Radio and the motorboat Secko.

Facts hitherto unknown, subjects hitherto only partly understood, long long hidden from the ken of white men, are being brought back to be added to civilization's vast store of knowledge. Meteorology, geology, botany, zoology and anthropology have been in the making during the past 14 months.

Lieut. Comm. Donald B. MacMillan is the leader of the expedition—his eleventh voyage in 19 years of Arctic explorations. With him were six scientists of the Field Museum in Chicago, for which specimens were gathered. With MacMillan also was Kenneth Rawson, young son of Frederick Rawson, Chicago banker, who financed the expedition.

Radio waves already have carried to the world some knowledge of what the expedition accomplished. Dr. Duncan Strong, anthropologist, who undertook to live among the Mascope Indians, has learned much of the history and daily life of these little-known northlanders.

Sites of old Eskimo villages have been uncovered. Ruins left by the so-called Tunit race have been studied. Who these forgotten folk were no one as yet knows. Possibly, says MacMillan, this race was confused with the Norsemen who, it is indicated visited Greenland and Labrador 900 years ago. These latter ruins, MacMillan asserts, are of a certainty not Eskimo.

Exploration has been pushed along the western coast of Baffin Land. Vegetation, bird and animal life of the whole region encompassed in the survey have been studied and specimens preserved. Much information contradictory to that given by the best authorities has been gathered.

As the explorers fared inland by snowmobile—a motor car equipped with runners—Eskimos and Indians were amazed. Everywhere the vehicle went it created a sensation, and the wondering natives gathered round to examine every part of the machine.

The home of the expedition, at Cowdoin Harbor, Field Bay, was the mecca of Eskimos and Indians for miles around. During the long Arctic night the natives came to bask in the glow of electric lights to watch the magic of motion pictures, to listen to music and entertainment born northward on radio waves from the United States. Visitors came to the MacMillan headquarters daily. Night after night they listened to broadcasts from New York, Boston, Chicago and dozens of other places.

All that these natives know of modern inventions—radio, electric lights, movies, motorboats, motor cars and airplanes—has been brought to them in successive MacMillan expeditions.

She was only a Polities girl, but the men follied her around.

Vets Last Reunion Attended by Three

Forth Worth, Texas, Sept. 5 (P).—Time has all but wiped out Colonel Parsons's volunteer brigade of 3,000 Texans who marched north with Lee and Jackson in the stirring '60's.

For 48 years the veterans of this cavalry organization have assembled in some Texas town to recount their experiences of the war between the states. The last meeting, however, has now been closed.

Such a roll has been taken of their number that only three of Parsons's men answered roll call at the recent reunion at Ennis. Realizing they could no longer carry on, the trio, including B. F. Marchbanks, 83; Allen Roe, 85, and J. C. Reager, 84, elected life time officers and adjourned sine die.

Several years ago Marchbanks became severely ill before the annual reunion. Believing he was about to die, his comrades sent the brigade standard to Marchbanks's kinsmen so it might be draped around his casket.

"I fooled 'em by living," the old warrior declares. "That's how I happen to have the flag now. But when I die I want it buried with me as a sign that all the hatred I ever felt toward the union is gone. I am going to be laid to rest beside my son who was killed in France. He was buried with the Stars and Stripes, and I—well, I am going to be buried with my flag."

HIGH FALLS

High Falls, Sept. 5.—The Ladies Aid Society of the Reformed Church will meet at 2:30 on Thursday afternoon in the basement of the church. A good attendance is desired.

The public school opened today with Mrs. E. Jansen of High Falls and Mr. Chipp of Kingston as teachers.

John Lonigan and family have returned to their home in Yonkers after spending the summer in High Falls.

Mrs. C. G. F. Burr of Yonkers was the guest of Mrs. E. D. Kortright on Thursday and Friday of last week.

Alva Buckley and daughter of Newark, N. J., were recent callers on friends in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dyer and family spent the week end and Labor Day in Otsego county.

Daniel Williams has moved his family from Highland here. He purchased the property of Alonzo Smith and took possession last week.

Mrs. Preston Church has resumed her duties as teacher in The Clove school.

Wilmer Church of Long Island spent last Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Church.

Miss Hilah Paulmier of Yonkers was a recent visitor of relatives in this place.

Frank Depew and family have returned home to Brooklyn after spending their vacation with his mother, Mrs. C. Depew.

Mrs. Charles Stepath and children, Myron and Betty, have returned home after spending their vacation with her mother, Mrs. E. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Connor and child have returned home after several weeks' vacation at the Elcliff Cottage of Lewis Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Young of Astoria spent the week end with Mrs. E. D. Kortright.

A family gathering was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Jansen over Sunday and Labor Day.

Miss Ada Markle of New Jersey was a recent guest at the home of Mrs. L. W. Krom.

William Ayers and family of Briarcliff spent the week end with his father, John Ayers.

A great many people of the surrounding country and many former residents of this vicinity visited the flood scene at the old Coxing Bridge on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. George J. Hoims of Poughkeepsie called on friends in this place on Sunday and took lunch at Miss Belle Van Wagenen's. A very pleasant time was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams spent the week end at their home here.

Lewis Sherman spent the week end at his home.

ST. REMY.

St. Remy, Sept. 5.—The Ladies Aid Society will meet in the Sunday school room Thursday, September 6, at 2:30 p. m. It is important all members be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Allie Van Aken, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Terpening and son are visiting Tracy Van Vliet and Mrs. Cynthia Terpening and family.

Philip Ryan and family of Cleveland are guests of Mrs. Mary Ryan and family.

A rainy Labor Day was a disappointment to a great many people. The city people are returning to their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Porter and granddaughter of Allentown were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Freer.

Mrs. Laura Ford and Mrs. Frank Fitzsimmons of Bridgeport, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Carney.

Mrs. Serena Freer and granddaughter Harriet Terpening, visited friends in New Paltz on Sunday.

The fruit growers report peaches are rotting badly caused by so much wet weather.

A number from St. Remy attended the Home Bureau picnic at Kingston on Friday.

Usually the people who fight any public improvement the hardest are the first to point to it with pride when once completed.

CHRYSLER Plymouth

Plymouth's Greater Dollar Value

Is changing the buying habits of thousands of motorists

Today's big news in the low-cost-price field is the landslide towards the new Plymouth.

Day by day, the millions who count the cost of motoring, realize more and more how clearly this great car by Chrysler, built for supremacy in the lowest-priced group, overabundant in actual dollar-for-dollar value the few other cars in its class.

They find the Plymouth presents vivid contrasts in size, style and luxury of finish which can be seen at a glance.

Road performance tells an even more convincing story of power and speed, combined with unusual smoothness and safety. For the Plymouth is Chrysler-built and enjoys all the unique advantages of Chrysler Standardized Quality.

See the New Plymouth! Examine it critically.

You will at once know why Plymouth is today the new standard for measuring actual dollar value in the largest automobile market.

When Knighthood Was In Flower

Back in the old days of chivalry, the nobles of the land went about unselfishly seeking to aid those in trouble, to take up and redress the wrongs of the weak, to succor the helpless.

The armored knight in the symbol above represents fittingly, therefore, the unselfish aims and policies of this organization, for we also aim to serve all who need our services, regardless of worldly considerations.

It has been our unflinching devotion to this ideal that has won for us a place beyond the rank and file; a position in the profession that enables us to use this Symbol of Unselfish Service.

Market for Fruits
And Vegetables

New York, Sept. 5 (AP).—(State Department of Agriculture and Marketing.)—The fresh fruit and vegetable market was liberally supplied today. Trading was brisker.

Apples were in more liberal supply. New York State Alexander U.
Grade No. 1, 2 1/2 inch and upward, at 75c-1.15 per bushel basket.

Crab apples were slow. Varieties from the Hudson valley brought 75c-per 12-quart basket.

Bartlett pears from upstate were liberal supply and sold at 1.15-1.25 per bushel basket.

State beans were plentiful. Demand was good and the market firm.
Price range was wide. Various varieties, green flat, brought 2.50-3.00 per bushel basket; Champions,
1.45; Cranberries, 1.50-2.50; and lima, 50c-2.50.

Potatoes from up-state were in scarce supply and the quality poor. Sales were moderate, 50c @ 1 1/2; Colorado
No. 1, 45c-50c; No. 2, 40c-45c.
Potatoes were in moderate receipt.
Demand was moderate, and the market slightly stronger. New Jersey 9-pound sacks of cobbler sold at
1.65 @ 1.85; Long Island, 1.90
@ 2.25; and bulk 180 pounds mostly @ 2.25.

Onions were in moderate receipt.
Demand was moderate and the market steady. No. 1, New York
Washington section, 100 pounds $3.75
@ 3.85; small 3 1/2 @ 3.25.

Lettuce was in moderate supply.
Demand moderate and the market steady. New York crates, 2 dozen @ Boston, 1.25 @ 1.75; few 2
@ 2.25; poorer 75c @ 1.10. Romaine
@ 1.50.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 5 (AP).—Frequent shifts of speculative sentiment, with wide swings in some of the high-priced specialties, characterized today's stock market. Extreme nervousness of professional traders and small operators was attributed to the increase of $214,000,000 in stock exchange member loans reported yesterday, and fears of a large gain in the weekly federal reserve figures, which will be made public after the close of the market tomorrow.

Call money held steady at 7 1/2 per cent throughout the morning although banks called $15,000,000 in loans. New funds were appearing in the call market as the September 1 dividend and interest checks returned to the banks, but bankers expected it will be several days before the return flow is completed. There was no change in time money and commercial paper rates but the bankers acceptance market displayed an easier undertone.

Warner Bros. issues were again the dominant feature. The common stock opened 3 1/2 points lower at 112, rallied to 121, broke to 111 and rallied to around 117 by early afternoon. The A stock opened at 114 1/2, rallied to 127, dropped to 113 and rebounded to 121.

Erratic fluctuations in these issues brought about heavy selling by frightened investors and speculators in other sections of the list, particularly the motors. White Motors dropped 5 1/2 points, International Harvester 4 1/2, General Motors 3, and Hupp 2 1/2.

Montgomery Ward, General Railway Signal, American Lined and several others yielded 2 points or more.

New leaders were brought forward in the early afternoon and the market staged a vigorous recovery under the leadership of Radio, which rallied more than 7 points to 22 1/2.
Park & Tilford was another strong feature, climbing nearly 5 points to a new peak at 87 1/2 on reports of expanding earnings. Gold Dust, American and Foreign Power, Brunswick Balke Collender and Barsdall also moved into new high ground.

Rails showed consistent strength with Kansas City Southern a strong feature.

Speaking of Turkish baths, F. Editt tells the story of a befuddled gentleman who fell asleep in the banking room and roostered friends coating his face and chest with tar and sprinkling of feathers. After a time he awakened dripping with perspiration, glanced at himself in a mirror, and cried: "In hell and a bird!"

We are told by an alleged authority that half the people of the world are left-handed. The worst of it is to see a right-handed person left-handed. Some of the birds who think they are the smartest are the most foolish.

When you were in Europe, did you see the Rock of Gibraltar?"
"Yes, but it's not what it used to be."
"Huh?"
"No, the insurance ad was gone."

My girl is so fat I walked down the street with her the other day without knowing my rival was doing the same thing.

Theatrical Landlady (to servant): "Mary, I've left the front room to the sword swallower, so you must always be careful and count the cutlery."

"Did that young man of yours propose yet, Alice?" asked a fond mother.
"No, mother," replied her equally fond daughter, "but I'm sure he will tonight."

"What makes you think so?"
"Well, we're going to be married tomorrow."

The new mail-order uniform received yesterday by our marshal is too blanded small. He was wearing it today while a bandit was robbing the drug store and the coat fit him so tight he had to hustle it off before he could throw up his hands.

"Are you sure," an anxious patient asked a physician, "are you sure that I shall recover? I have heard that doctors sometimes give wrong diagnoses, and have treated patients for pneumonia who afterwards died of typhoid fever."
"You've been woefully misinformed," replied the doctor indignantly. "If I treat a man for pneumonia he dies of pneumonia."

When asked by her teacher, "In whose reign did we first hear of railroads?" a little girl replied, "In Solomon's."

She was asked to think again, but persisted in her original statement, and the teacher then inquired why she thought so.
"Because," replied the little girl, "we are told in the Bible that the Queen of Sheba went to Jerusalem with a very great train."

Mrs. Grace Zugalla of Watervliet is visiting her sisters, the Misses Carle and Lois Anderson, of this village.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Ryan and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ryan of Valley Stream, L. I., called on friends in this place Friday morning on their way home from Sacandaga Park where they spent their vacation.

Mrs. Edith Paradies of White Plains is visiting Mrs. Howard Stearns.

Flowers Hobby of British Minister

London, Sept. 5.—The horticulturalists, arboriculturists, herbalists and botanists of California had better brush up all the long words of their vocabularies. Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign minister, will soon be among them.

In going to California for his health, Sir Austen is more or less carrying coals to Newcastle; for he leaves behind him in England a veritable miniature of California, his garden at Five Ashes, in Sussex. It must be a wise follower of Burroughs who essays to tell Sir Austen something about flowers.

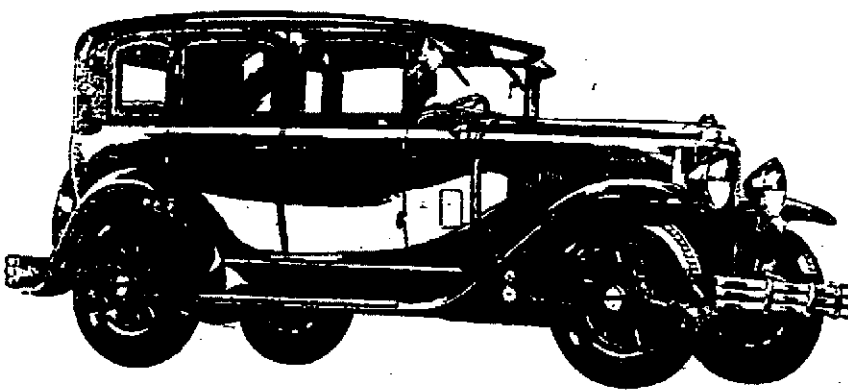

The rock garden of the foreign secretary's home in the Sussex downs is his own private preserve. Within its boundaries he is his own gardener. He may be found on an ordinary day, bulky with tough corduroy plus-fours and old sweater, hands dirt-laden and face perspiring, working with great efficiency among the growing things of his garden.

Around him would be found hundreds of different kinds of plants, gathered from the rarest corners of the world. They have come from Kashmir, from Switzerland, from Tibet, from China. Nor are these plants like new sets of books with uncut leaves. Sir Austen knows them all by name, and nurses them. It is a brave man who would venture among Sir Austen's flowers without his permission.

Sir Austen inherits his horticultural leanings from his late father, the eminent statesman Joseph Chamberlain, whose orchids were renowned through the kingdom. The father made use of greenhouses, but Sir Austen contents himself with a few cold frames for raising seedlings.

The new Buick is the new Style

More than handsome... more than luxurious... a wonderful new type of motor car beauty... a thrilling turning point in body design

It will be imitated, of course! The new, the fine and the beautiful always inspire emulation. But so great is the cost of building the magnificent new Fisher bodies for the Silver Anniversary Buick that imitation will be possible only to much costlier cars, and even these will find difficulty in following where Buick leads!

$1,500,000 has been expended in manufacturing the dies alone for the new Buick bodies; and the gracefully curving side panels which form one of their distinguishing characteristics represent the most expensive steel paneling work employed on any automobile in the world!

But it is not in the matchless grace and beauty of exterior design alone that the Silver Anniversary Buick eclipses other cars. The velvet motor upholstery in the closed models—the hardware and fittings—the many appointments of luxury and convenience—are all of the richest quality; and the bracing of the bodies, which imparts strength and durability and freedom from squeaks and rattles, is the most efficient and effective known to motor car practice.

In dazzling beauty—as in fact, powerful performance—the world holds no equal for the Silver Anniversary Buick with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher.

It is more than handsome, more than luxurious—it marks a thrilling turning point in body design. And the motoring public, buying in such tremendous volume as to force the great Buick factories to work day and night to supply the demand, is elevating it to the prominence of a vogue!

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—Without hurrying at all the world can be girdled in 50 days. Emil Fisher, a banker at Tientsin, has done it. He left there July 15, spent three weeks in the United States and four days in Germany. Friends here have received word of his return to Tientsin. He used planes across Russia from Germany.

Washington—In his fiftieth year, Captain Emory S. Land, U. S. N., a cousin of Lindbergh, has become an accredited aviation pilot. He made his first solo flight two weeks ago. Naval rules prohibit a staff officer from becoming an aviator, so the captain went to the department of commerce. He has a leave of absence to become vice president of the Guggenheim fund for the promotion of aeronautics.

New York—The new church being erected on Riverside drive by the Park Avenue Baptist congregation, of which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is a member, is described by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, as communal. All disciples of Jesus will be welcome on equal terms. There will be nothing sectarian in the name. "Decent" movies on Saturday for children are contemplated. There will be open doors for the community's interest in music, amateur theatricals, recreation for boys and girls.

Washington—One of the problems offered for the supreme court to decide is whether a club should compensate a wife for her husband's losses at poker. Mrs. Gladys Anderson of McGill, Nev., lost in the state courts and appealed.

New York—Says the will of Mrs. Helen F. Cohan, mother of George M.: "Whatever prosperity my beloved husband and I have died possessed of, has come from the unselfish generosity of my beloved son, who has earned and enjoyed our everlasting gratitude and affection." The petition for probate put the estate at more than $20,000. After a bequest of $10,000 to Fred Niblo, Jr., a grandson, the rest is left to George.

Johannesburg, South Africa—Thirty persons slept two nights in freezing weather outside a government office at Lichtenburg in order to obtain licenses to peg diamond claims. When the offices opened 1,500 were in line. Then came a rush to the fields by automobile.

New York—Fannie Hurst, novelist, is back from abroad convinced that Americans have the greatest inferiority complex of any people on earth; that abroad they accept the indictment that they are raw and dull without ideals when as a matter of fact they are more idealistic than Europeans.

Washington—Watch those Texas divorce statistics. Mrs. J. C. Griswold, Republican national committeewoman, has given Republican headquarters the news that sundry Texas women have threatened divorce if their husbands vote for Smith.

New York—With us is Reynaldo Luza, Paris fashion artist, who utters that boyish simplicity is bygone; that skirts which touch knees in front and heels in back are the mode.

Clive Brook

Handsome Clive Brook, the featured motion picture player, is five feet, eleven inches tall, weighs 140 pounds, has brown hair and gray eyes. He was born in London, England. His mother was an opera singer. He saw service during the war, after which he took up stage work, in which he had had some experience. He was successful from the start. Later he entered the "movies," coming to the United States in 1924, and his work has been well received here.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

"BLUES"

AMONG the worst of fancied ailments is "blues."

But imaginary diseases can make trouble, as well as real ones. I have known temperamental ladies who had nothing whatever the matter with them to render life miserable to themselves and their families for weeks at a time.

And it is actually possible for people to worry or fret themselves sick. But for the "blues" there is little excuse.

It is a trouble of inferior minds. It will come on at any time, usually when there is no apparent cause for it, and last for an indefinite period.

Meantime the patient is not worth much. His work is bad. His temper is tricky, and it is wise to avoid him and let him get over it.

Give a victim of "blues" something to think about—something that he has simply got to think about, like hustling for a living, or keeping his job, and he quickly gets over it.

Coddle him, and sympathize with him, and he will have a long spell.

The "blues" come to people who are sorry for themselves—who think they are misunderstood, or that they are not getting half as much out of life as they are entitled to.

It comes sometimes, of course, to genius, but genius can be spoiled by petting till it is intolerable.

Ask any grand opera impresario about that.

Normal people are not much affected with the "blues" while they are in good health.

Even habitual worriers do not get into that state of constant "lowness" which makes them want to get off into a corner and pity themselves.

The "blues" victim just remains in a sort of coma, shedding actual or mental tears, and looking upon the battle of life as already lost.

It sounds rather trite and preachy to say that hard work and plenty of it is the best cure for the "blues," as it is for most other mental foolishness.

But there has to be a little preaching now and then, or people would have no reminder of their own infirmities and how to dispose of them.

Among colored people, naturally happy, there are many who not only get the "blues" but sing about them dolefully.

But these are people who are slow in developing, and who cannot keep up with their brethren in their remarkable climb up from slavery and illiteracy to a place among thinking, believing people.

If you have friends who have the "blues" don't laugh at them, but don't sympathize with them either.

If you have them yourself, and can't get over them go to a psychiatrist and get him to tell you what is the matter with you.

They are not normal nor natural.

HOW FLOOD AFFECTED GRAHAMSVILLE AND EUREKA

Grahamsville, Sept. 5.—The villages of Grahamsville and Eureka were greatly damaged by the flood which swept along the Chestnut and Rondout creek Sunday, August 26. The rain fell in torrents from 11 a. m. until nearly 3 p. m. It carried away a large number of buildings that stood in its path, including one bungalow at Unionville belonging to Bruce Gillett, several barns and garages also valuable cars; undermined barns and dwelling houses of nearly every property owner along the stream; carried away nearly every bridge in the town of Neversink, or left them in such a condition they were impassable; washed out all hill roads as well as state road; broke down telephone poles and wires so all telephone communications were impossible until Wednesday.

One man, Frank Weller, lost his life. He started to walk from Rodney Pratt's to Grahamsville, a distance of about one mile, to see how things were in town. As he went, he crossed the Westwood Brook bridge, about 100 yards from Mr. Pratt's, the bridge was swept away, and Mr. Weller grabbed an electric light pole, and that also gave way and pinned the victim beneath it. Neighbors saw him and told him to hold fast and they would get a rope and help him. Before they could be of any assistance, he was out of sight in the surging stream. His neck was broken on the fall instead of being drowned as first stated. His body was recovered a few hours later and removed to Mr. Pratt's home, where Mrs. Martha Briggs had charge of it.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ryan of Eureka were rescued from their home by men dragging them with ropes from their front porch to the state road shortly after noon. They were taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gorton, where they were cared for in a very friendly way until Wednesday. Their property is very much damaged, but they are comfortably situated at present in Mahlon Donivan's house at Eureka, where they moved their furniture Tuesday and Wednesday.

William Clark, who occupied one of James B. Smith's cottages, also moved Tuesday into the Baptist parsonage, as his house is ready to topple over. A large number of houses were filled with mud and water on the first floor and nearly every cellar was filled to overflowing. Mr. and Mrs. William Clark and daughter, also C. Hamilton were taken care of at the home of George Gorton.

Mr. and Mrs. Addison Haynes of Kingston spent the week end with the latter's parents at Eureka. Everybody is busy clearing away rubbish and trying to fix up their property since the flood.

It is said that they have adjourned the Grahamsville fair and will not try to hold it as in former years, due to bridges being gone and roads in such bad condition. Morris Brundage saw a large black bear one day recently near his home.

MODENA

Modena, Sept. 5.—A parish bazaar and minstrel show was presented at Odd Fellows' Lodge Hall at Gardner Friday evening, August 31, also a block dance and bazaar Saturday evening which was attended by many people from this vicinity.

Wonderful weather added to the attractiveness of the Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau picnic held at Forsyth Park at Kingston, Friday of last week. A number of Modena people enjoyed the trip and picnic, as well as the renewing of acquaintances.

The Misses Mary Ella and Emma Ward will be hostesses at the next meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society, which will be held at their home Thursday afternoon at this week.

The clambake held at Hasbrouck Memorial hall for the benefit of Modena Methodist Church Thursday evening, met with splendid results. Four hundred tickets were sold.

School opened Tuesday for the fall and winter term with Miss Mary Brandon and Miss Kathryn Gaffney as teachers.

A block dance was held at Highland, Saturday evening, under the auspices of Highland Hose Co., No. 1. Brewster Hook and Ladder Co. orchestra from Newburgh furnished music for the occasion.

Miss Gertrude Every of Kingston spent a few days of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shultis.

Miss Josephine Gelsch was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wells Weaver at Clintondale.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Miller entertained guests at their home Tuesday evening of last week.

Secure Tickets For Legion Trip

Tickets for the bus trip to the state convention parade of the American Legion at Schenectady on Friday must be purchased tonight at the American Legion Memorial Building. A large number of Legionnaires and their wives have already bought tickets. Tickets are being sold by the Legion at $2 each for the round trip. The buses will leave the Legion Building Friday morning at 8 o'clock and will leave Schenectady some time after the parade.

The parade will start sharply at 4 p. m. Friday.

The Ulster county delegation will be in the first division and will be led by the local Legion drum corps. Ulster county Legionnaires will wear "farmers" straw hats with a hat band reading "Ulster County Soldiers".

A great many Legionnaires are planning to make the trip. James H. Betts, chairman of the state convention committee, will be at the American Legion building tonight to give full information to those wishing bus tickets be sure to buy them tonight in order that a sufficient number of buses may be engaged. He has chartered some of the largest and most comfortable buses obtainable.

About 18,000 Legionnaires from all over the Empire State will be in the line of march, and Schenectady will be the host of thousands of visitors to witness this colorful event.

The local Legion drum corps will leave the Legion Building in special buses on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock and will spend Thursday night in the Schenectady armory, where space has been reserved for them on army cots. On Friday morning at 8:30, on the campus of Union College, the local drum corps will meet, in competition for prizes, the flower of the Legion drum corps of the state. They will be judged by a committee composed of West Point army officers on appearance, cadence, drilling, playing, etc. The local drummer boys have been drilling hard for the past four months and claim that they will bring the first prize back to Kingston with them.

AGED DANISH COUNCILOR MAKES NOVEL REQUESTS.

Copenhagen, Sept. 5 (AP).—The will of State Councilor Poul Andrae, son of one of Denmark's greatest statesmen, was as quaint as the battered old hat and trowel coat in which he visited all sorts of public places like restaurants and concert halls before his death recently at the age of 85.

Several musicians and composers, personally unknown to him, but to whose work he had taken a fancy, were left what the old man himself termed "portions of gratitude" in the shape of a round sum or a souvenir like a gold watch. Also several journalists were remembered in this way. One of them received a gift of $500 and a gold fountain pen. Others received valuable pieces of furniture and art. One Danish writer has been presented with a life lease on a house.

JEFFERSON PLAN USED IN WORK OF RESTORATION.

Williamsburg, Va., Sept. 5 (AP).—A photostatic copy of an unpublished sketch drawn by Thomas Jefferson, for a proposed addition to the Sir Christopher Wren building at the College of William and Mary here, has been received from the E. Huntington Library at San Gabriel, Calif. It is expected to be used in the restoration work now under way on this old building.

The sketch was made by the famous American statesman for a new building to double the size of the one now standing. A legend on the plan says it was drawn at the request of Lord Dunmore, last of the colonial governors of Virginia.

Unique Porters

The porters who carry your baggage from the trains to the taxis in Copenhagen work as a co-operative union with a small flat charge. They are the only porters known to return money when overpaid.

Gene Tunney's Passing Regretted

THE passing of Gene Tunney is a source of genuine regret to all sportsmen and devotees of the boxing game. Making his bow at this time, after a convincing display of his prowess as a fighting champion, is but another instance of Gene's sublimity of anything worth doing on the glistering stage of hero worship. Tunney could not as well have kept his secret and traveled throughout Europe as "the champion" and received the adulation of the fight crowd wherever he came to go.

As a champion, he would have been entitled to more recognition than a retired leader.

Just what niche Tunney will occupy in the annals of boxing is a matter for time to decide. There is no doubt whatever that Gene did much to erase the general opinion that he was a "lucky champion" by the easy manner in which he handled Tom Heffer. But there will always be those who will say that Heffer was given preference over Jack Sharkey even though the latter was held to a draw by the New Zealand and soundly trounced by Johnny Risko.

Gene Tunney.

Galloway Injured

It is not likely that Chick Galloway, of the Milwaukee Brewers, will play again this season. The veteran infielder was hit in the head by Baseball Phillips during batting practice some days ago and is still in the hospital. His cheek bone was fractured.

Sporting Squibs

Gene Tunney always can get a job as a window demonstrator.

Who says there is nothing in a name? Didn't the Finnish Olympic runner finish one, two, three?

A first-rate personal reason for Tunney's retirement from the prize ring is the fact that he no longer needs the money.

The California crew made the trip East four times before it won first place. It was East in 1921, 1926, 1927 and 1928.

Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen split each other's golf winnings, having had an agreement to this effect for several years.

If Tunney still insists he is through when another $300,000 check is waved in his face, we shall then know that he means it.

"The modernistic art trend is to make itself felt shortly in sport attire." This will be a. o. k. if it doesn't lead on to an oblong tennis ball or something.

The recent doubles match of Tilden and Hunter versus Cochet and Brugnon was the most dramatic he had ever seen. Vinnie Richards said after the match.

A home and home football contract has been signed between Notre Dame and Indiana university. The first game will be played at Bloomington, October 5, 1929, with the Hoosiers journeying to South Bend in 1930.

An attractive little clubhouse, with gymnasium, lounge and writing rooms, has been built for its caddies by the Lenox Hills Golf club of Long Island. The boys pay $1 a year dues and have the use of the course on Mondays.

Aubrey Devine, the former All-American football player from Iowa university, will retire as freshman coach under Howard Jones at the University of Southern California in order to devote more time to his law practice.

DIAMOND PICK-UPS

Catcher Russell Keith was given an outright release by Omaha.

Pessimist: One who has no use for an "I" table in the baseball standing.

The Athletics say they don't fear the big bats of Ruth or Gehrig half as much as the one of Meusel.

The first known and fixed salary ever paid a ball player was $25 a week paid to the late Alfred J. Reach, who died in 1927.

We wish health authorities wouldn't spread their propaganda about taking a nap on hot afternoons where certain ballplayers can see it.

The Pittsburgh Pirates are said to be after Rabbit Warstler, promising young shortstop with Indianapolis in the American association.

Baseball pools take $50,000,000 from the gullible in this country every year. Possibly the suckers feel more at home, though, in a pool than in an oil well.

Pitcher Bill Brown of the Cleveland Indians has been named as the hurler who goes to the Omaha Crickets in the deal for Outfielder Red Harrel, recently purchased from Barney Burch's club.

Shreveport, in an effort to drag in some belated fans, has decided on the experiment of twilight baseball, and games at that stopping-off place in the Texas league now are being started at five o'clock.

Heinie Bathe, star shortstop of the Scranton team of the New York-Pennsylvania league, has been obtained by the Milwaukee Brewers in a trade for Alvin Rein, pitcher, and Frank Baldy, substitute infielder.

Otis (Doc) Grandall, veteran pitcher and part owner and manager of the Wichita Athletics, announced that he was severing connections with the club and returning to California, where he planned to pitch for the Sacramento Sacs.

Joe Rabbit is still fast, in any league. He heads the International in stolen bases, with 32 to his credit, according to latest averages compiled by Al Munro Elias, and a man who steals 32 bases in 106 games is going some these days.

Buzz Wetzel received an offer from the Toledo Mudhens for three of his Sallors, Briscoe, Hill and Gockel, but refused to sell them for immediate delivery, stating that he will not weaken the team now under any circumstances, as he is intent upon grabbing off second-half honors.

Shortstop Heinie Sand of the Phillies ripped off one for the records when in the fifth inning of a game with the Cardinals, he thought three were out and tossed the ball into the diamond. Hofer scored from first base before the alarm clock went off and the Phils woke up to the situation.

Jack Dunn of Baltimore has come out with the policy calling for young, fast and frisky players, according to one Baltimore scribe. No more grizzled vets for the Oriole leader. With the exception of Eddie Oslow at first, the oldtimers Dunn has corralled this year have not come up to expectations, writes the scribe, and there will be new life within the ranks of the Birds from now on.

The real worth of Andy Reese of the New York Giants appears when some player is put out and a substitute is needed. Reese has played every position this season for the Giants except in the box and behind the bat, and he's merely waiting his turn for these assignments. But of all positions, Reese says he likes shortstop best. He filed in for Travis Jackson there when Jackson's knee acted up and they had a hard time making him give up the job.

Myers Expects To Kayo Heffer

Joe Myers, local boxer, who is counted on by Doc Stader to make a rapid climb in the pugilistic realm from a few on, is making ready to do away with Dan Heffer of New York by the knockout route when he meets him here at the armory Friday night, September 7.

Myers' confidence that he can win over Heffer is now much stronger since he beat Joe Wolf of New York at Middletown Tuesday night in a hectic scrap. Doc Stader described the battle as one of the most exciting on the card. He has great hopes for Myers not alone in his coming bout but in a string of future engagements which face the Kingston battler.

On the same card with Joe Myers at Middletown Tuesday night were Roy Van Buren and Coke Costello.

Elephant Good Swimmer

The elephant swims more easily than it walks. It simply stands up right and breeds water.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

9960 OLYMPIC GAMES could be run off in DUNLOP CITY

THE Olympic Games this summer are being held at Amsterdam, Holland, in a stadium 10½ acres in area. "Dunlop City," which the 100,000 acres of Dunlop productive properties would form, would be vast enough to run off 9,960 Olympic Games at one time.

What is the secret of Dunlop's great growth? Basically there is only one reason—Dunlop Tires are better tires—and have been for 40 years.

This is easy to believe when you realize that Dunlop possesses tire-building advantages enjoyed by no other manufacturer. Dunlop owns and operates its own wide-spread rubber plantations. Dunlop resources total more than $195,000,000. Over 40 years of continuous production have given Dunlop the greatest of all tire-building experience. These resources and experience are converted into tires by 45,000 craftsmen and engineers.

There are other incidental causes, less impressive but equally important. They answer such questions as:

"Why does Dunlop pay such high premiums in order to get the choicest Egyptian cotton for Dunlop cord fabric?"

"Why is every bit of this cotton spun in Dunlop's own spinning mills?"

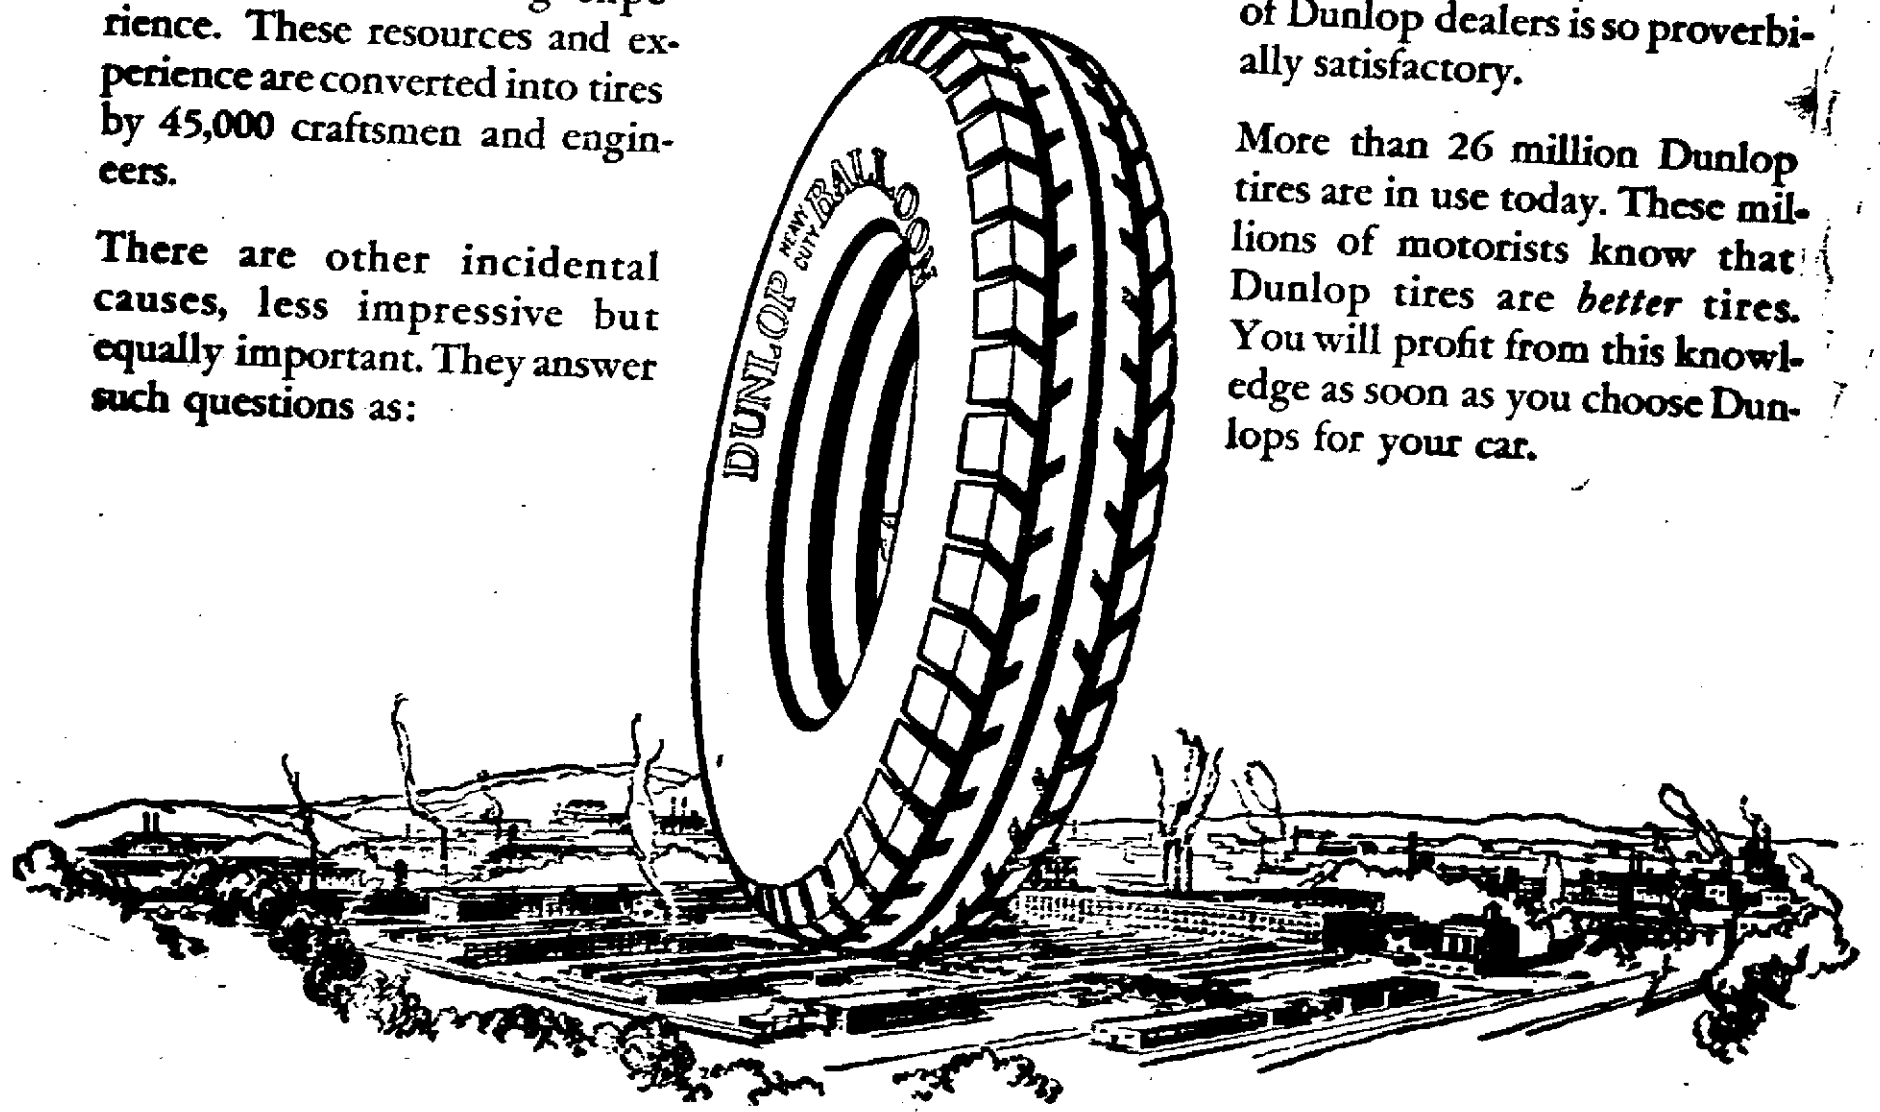

"Why is such care taken in analyzing, blending and compounding Dunlop rubber into the toughest compound ever achieved?"

Taken together, these details mean two things:

1. It is Dunlop's policy to make consistently better tires.
2. This policy can be uniformly lived up to because Dunlop has absolute control of product from raw materials to finished tire.

Naturally, Dunlop seeks to select its dealers with the same thoroughness it selects its raw materials. And that explains why the service of Dunlop dealers is so proverbially satisfactory.

More than 26 million Dunlop tires are in use today. These millions of motorists know that Dunlop tires are better tires. You will profit from this knowledge as soon as you choose Dunlops for your car.

French Fliers Forced to Land

Casablanca, Morocco, Sept. 5 (AP).—After an air jaunt southward from here this morning, the French trans-Atlantic flight aspirants, Jean Ansolant and Rene LeFevre, returned to Casablanca and telegraphed Paris for orders. They indicated that they had abandoned the time being their project of flying to either South or North America with Armored Lottis as passenger.

The machine landed here yesterday afternoon from Paris with New York as its announced destination. An oil leak caused the halt in the project. This was repaired overnight but other mechanical difficulties are understood to have developed on the attempt today to reach St. Louis, Senegal. This is the usual hopping off place for aviators who cross the south Atlantic to Brazil.

The Frenchmen indicated that they rather expect to be recalled to Paris.

Celebration At Mountain House

The Catskill Mountain House, most famous resort of the Catskills and noted for its world famed view, closed its 1928 season with a most enjoyable supper and dance given by the new owners, Charles and Lewis Beach and John K. Van Wageningen.

When the Catskill Mountain House opened on June 30, 1928, a new era of sociability was promised and this promise was more than fulfilled throughout the season. The closing celebration will long be remembered by the many guests of the house and friends as one of the outstanding events of the season. Some of New York's most talented artists assisted in the success of the closing event and through the season.

The program arranged by the management included Faus and Jarden, dance team; Bea Thrift, waiter from "Song Writer," Marion Winston, song and dance from "Song Writer," Agatha Goodman in songs, Tom Collins, tap dancing; Frank McCormack in songs.

Just before the conclusion of the evening's entertainment, a Simon on behalf of the guests addressed the gathering in a testimonial to John K. Van Wageningen, who had so ably performed his duties as manager, and as a token of esteem and their appreciation Mr. Simonds presented to Mr. Van Wageningen an exquisite wrist watch appropriately engraved with the sentiment of the guests and friends of "Jack."

The season closes a success in the fulfillment of new ideas applied, bringing back to the Catskills the popularity this hostelry has enjoyed.

SCHILLING COMPLETES MUSICAL COURSE

George Schilling, formerly of Kingston, has completed a course at Eastman School of Music and has resumed his position at the Cameo Theatre at Bristol, Conn., for the second season. Mr. Schilling's friends in Kingston will be glad to know he is meeting with such success at Bristol. The Bristol Press says in regard to Mr. Schilling's ability:

Today marks the return of Bristol's popular organist, George Schilling, after an absence of several months' leave of absence during which time he was enrolled in the Eastman School of Music at Rochester, New York.

Mr. Schilling, although an accomplished musician and an organist of rare ability, is never satisfied with himself. He is constantly seeking new information and ideas. It was with this in mind that he enrolled for the special summer course at Eastman's during which time he has studied organ specialties, harmony and novel combinations, under the world's finest professors of music.

Mr. Schilling, in addition to his organ work, is also a fine trombone player. He has sung on the concert stage in the past and has already offered his combination singing and organ recital to Bristol.

RESUME SERVICES SUNDAY AT FIRST DUTCH CHURCH

On next Sunday morning the First Dutch Church will resume its services. The famous Gloria Trumpeter Quartet of New York city will play at the morning service. This is to be a Rally Day service for both church and Sunday school. The Trumpeters will play first for the congregation and all interested friends who wish to hear them. This service begins promptly at 10:30 a. m. and will no doubt see the auditorium filled. The Sunday school session in charge of Oscar Edwards, assisted by I. S. Williams, begins at 12 o'clock. All classes should be there with perfect attendance. The Gloria Trumpeters will play at this rally service, and the public is again cordially invited.

The evening service will be resumed on September 16. The prayer meeting opens Thursday evening at 7:30. Dr. Boeve will be in charge. The subject will be, "Paul in Athens and Corinth." What kind of people did he meet? And how was his message received? Scripture references, Acts 17:16-18 and I. Cor. 2:1-16.

The monthly meeting of Consistory will be held Thursday evening immediately after the prayer meeting.

HOLY NAME OUTING TICKETS SELL RAPIDLY.

Tickets for St. Mary's Holy Name outing to be held Sunday at Camp Wapachki Sunday, are selling rapidly and it is expected that several busloads of men will leave the corner of McEneaney street and Broadway that morning at 10 o'clock for a day of wholesome enjoyment.

A chicken dinner to be served at the Gormley House, Phoenixia, will be a feature of the day's outing. When the annual outing was held last year the Holy Name members ate at the same place and thoroughly enjoyed the fine meal served. The dinner to be served this year will be up to the standard of the previous one.

Tickets for the outing may be obtained at St. Mary's rectory. They will also be sold next Sunday morning before the buses leave.

Concede Victory For La Follette

But Wisconsin Republicans Deny Re-nomination to Gov. Zimmerman, Who Ran Poor Third in Primary Election—Choice for Governor in June.

Milwaukee, Sept. 3 (AP).—A tradition of 35 years was broken in the primary election Tuesday when Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman was denied nomination by the Republicans in his quest for a second term.

Zimmerman suffered a crushing defeat that placed him a poor third, the choice of the Republicans lying between Walter J. Kohler, conservative, and Representative Joseph D. Beck, progressive.

The possibility that Kohler, prominent manufacturer seeking political office for the first time, might be the first conservative nominated in ten years loomed on the basis of returns which continued to give him a margin over Beck, who had the support of the state's two United States senators, John J. Blaine and Robert M. La Follette.

The outcome was still in doubt with a face so close that only the complete returns may settle it. Both Kohler and Beck were polling twice as many votes as the governor, who defeated the progressive and conservative candidates two years ago.

The nomination of Senator Robert M. La Follette, who has been in the senate since his father's death three years ago, was conceded. He easily defeated Mayor George W. Mead of Wisconsin Rapids, conservative Republican, by a two to one vote.

The Democratic candidates who will seek election in the fall for governor and United States senator were nominated without opposition.

Returns showed that the complete progressive ticket with the possible exception of Representative Beck was nominated in the Republican primary.

They were the running mates of Senator La Follette and Beck on the progressive ticket, and opposed those placed in the field by a conservative Republican conference which endorsed Kohler. The conservative candidates for other state offices ran far behind Kohler and there was no doubt of the outcome of the contest for the minor state offices from the start.

The vote in the Republican governorship race in 1,708 of the state's 2,760 precincts was:
Beck, 116,713; Kohler, 129,565; Zimmerman, 49,921.

For senator on the Republican ticket the vote in 1,481 precincts was: La Follette, 141,512; Mead, 76,853.

Y's Men's Club Plans Busy Time

The Y's Men's Club held a very enthusiastic meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night which was the first meeting they have held at the Y in some time, as since early summer they have been holding their weekly meetings at their camp at Lake Glenelg.

A number of members who have been spending their vacations out of town were given a rousing welcome back. There are still a few members who are on their vacations and who are expected to be in their places next Tuesday.

Two new members were welcomed into the membership, John Romulus and Stanley Winne. Tickets for a dance to be held at the camp on Friday evening, September 14, were distributed among the members and the committee under the leadership of Jim Scott is working hard to make this dance a big success. Music will be furnished by Paul Zucca's orchestra. Those desiring tickets can obtain them from any member of the club or at the Y.

The entertainment committee for the balance of September were appointed. Next Tuesday, September 11, G. W. Kias, Charles Ramsey and J. G. Fraser will furnish a program of exceptional merit and one which none of the members can afford to miss. For September 18 the committee will be Clarence Wolfenstein, Ernest LeFever and Dan Bittner, while for September 25, Leonard Stine, Tom Rowland and Charles Gorsch will try to outdo the previous committees.

The board of directors will meet next Tuesday evening after the regular meeting and the officers are looking forward to very successful and profitable fall and winter meetings.

FOUND GUILTY OF THREE CHARGES, PAYS $35

Frank Leonardelli of Brooklyn, arrested in the town of Ulster by Trooper Klein, was arraigned before Justice Jennings Tuesday and found guilty on three charges. Guilty of reckless driving, a fine of $15 was imposed, and on the charge of driving without proper registration plates the judge imposed a $10 fine. The $25 were paid. The third charge of disorderly conduct brought a jail sentence of 30 days on the defendant but execution of sentence was suspended. On being arrested for reckless driving the defendant became abusive to the officer and court.

Decide Election On Tariff Issue

Senator Curtis Calls on Voters to Determine Whether Duties Shall be Higher or Lower, and Describes Conditions Under Democratic Tariff.

Boston, Sept. 3 (AP).—The country was called upon today by Senator Curtis, the Republican vice presidential nominee, to decide between the Republican and Democratic parties at this election on an issue of higher or lower tariff duties.

Democrats, he declared, were "certain" to seek downward revision of the tariff. He reiterated his pledge to lead a Republican legislative move for a higher tariff wall.

The vice presidential nominee spoke at a rally at Norumbega Park here and his prepared address was devoted entirely to another discussion of the tariff situation.

"In my opinion," he said, "the tariff should be raised and not lowered. The slightest suspicion that the Democrats will lower the tariff should be sufficient reason not to give them the chance, while the certainty that they will take that action should be enough to settle all doubts as to which way you should vote."

Senator Curtis declared that Governor Smith, the Democratic presidential nominee, "indicated" that his "idea of a protective tariff is the Underwood Bill."

Effects of Underwood Tariff. "Meantime Martin W. Littleton, a Democratic member of the 62nd congress," he continued, describing the effects of the Underwood tariff said:

"New York is at this moment the center of the most remarkable pessimism I have ever known. There is a sense of depression and dismay here that I have not seen before in this great city during the seventeen years I have known it."

"On February 24, 1914, Governor Walsh of Massachusetts, and Mayor Curley of Boston, were asked by a committee, selected at a meeting of the unemployed, to throw open armories and other public buildings for sleeping purposes; to distribute food to those out of work; and to provide employment for the idle. These conditions of distress were nationwide and the country was saved from a staggering calamity only by the outbreak of the European war and the rush orders for American goods.

"The war has ended with the resumption of industrial activity aboard our customs houses are overwhelmed with imports. Each year shows a threatening increase of foreign imports, despite the high rates of the existing Republican act, the total for the calendar year 1927 amounting to 4,184 million dollars."

First Reformed Church Lighting

Electric lights are being installed in the First Reformed Church on Main street by the Curtis Lighting Inc., of New York city, and the work is expected to be completed when the church re-opens on Sunday, September 9.

The indirect system of lighting is being installed, the lights being entirely concealed in the vaulted dome of the church and also under the side galleries. The old gas chandeliers along the sides of the galleries have been removed, and the new lights will add greatly to the beauty of the edifice.

The lighting system for the church was planned and designed by the same engineer of the Curtis Lighting which makes a specialty of lighting public buildings, especially churches. The company recently has installed an indirect lighting system in the Christian Science Mother Church at Boston at a cost of $40,000, and in this city installed the lighting system in Trinity M. E. Church.

The new lighting system is being presented to the First Reformed Church by the Ladies' Aid Society and the Henrietta Wynkoop Guild, two of the church organizations. The wiring was done by Carl Miller & Son of 674 Broadway.

285 New Pupils At High School

There were 285 pupils registered at Kingston High School on Tuesday, when the institution opened for those who had not previously attended high school. The number surpassed that of last year by 15, when 260 enrolled in the freshman class. The high school opened today for pupils who had previously attended. Enrollment figures were not obtainable. Last year 994 upper classmen returned after the summer vacation.

Pastor Smith Returns.

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles B. Smith of the Wurts Street Baptist Church returned from their vacation this afternoon. The mid-week service will be resumed on Thursday at 7:45 p. m. Topic: "Vacation Experiences and Benefits." It is hoped that all may be present to relate their experiences and tell of their helpfulness.

Man Killed By Wallkill Valley

James Simmott, Struck by Gas-Electric Car at New Paltz, Dies in City of Kingston Hospital.

James Simmott, an employee of the Lowe Brick Company at New Paltz, was struck by the gas-electric car on the Wallkill Valley Railroad Tuesday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock as he was walking from the brickyard along the track of the village of New Paltz. Simmott, who was dead, was thrown down a steep embankment by the car, sustaining a broken right arm and broken shoulder and also severe internal injuries.

Simmott was picked up and rushed to the City of Kingston Hospital by the Lester DuBols ambulance service. His injuries were critical when he arrived at the hospital and this morning about 6 o'clock he died of the injuries sustained.

The body was taken in charge by Lester DuBols, New Paltz undertaker, who is endeavoring to locate relatives. It is believed that Simmott has a sister who resides in Boston. He has no relatives in this section of the country.

How often do you visit your jeweler?

Not very often, you'll agree, compared to the visits you make to your grocer and other stores.

This is natural enough. Silverware, watches, rings, etc., are not used for a brief period and replaced, as with other articles. Things bought at the jewelry store must serve longer.

That's why there is only one safe rule to follow: Buy the best. Only the best will bring permanent, dependable satisfaction in the long period of use, when the few extra dollars in cost will have been forgotten.

Here you'll find the best of everything—at prices that are always reasonable, quality considered. Of especial interest is our new showing of watches made by Wadsworth—style leaders in the dress of high-grade timepieces. Visit us.
